Woodfold Accordion Doors - LEED® for Green Building Design and Construction 2009 Edition

LEED® (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) Green Building Rating Systems for New Construction, Core & Shell, and Schools are a set of performance standards for certifying the design and construction of commercial or institutional buildings and high-rise residential buildings of all sizes, both public and private. The intent is to promote healthful, durable, affordable, and environmentally sound practices in building design and construction.

Listed below are the LEED® Green Building Rating System's 7 categories along with information of possible LEED® credits that our Accordion Doors may contribute towards:

1. Sustainable Sites. This category does not apply to our product.

2. Water Efficiency. This category does not apply to our product.

3. Energy and Atmosphere. This category does not apply to our product.

4. Materials and Resources
   MR Credit 4: Recycled Content
   - Steel components – Default 25% post-consumer recycle content.
   - Aluminum components – 25% post-industrial/pre-consumer recycle content (Sapa, Inc.).
   - Precise recycle content and weights of components can be provided once order is finalized.

   MR Credit 5: Regional Materials. This credit does not apply to our product.
   - Product manufacture location:
     - 1811 18th Ave., Forest Grove, OR 97116
     - Product components are too varied and specialized to source (extract) regionally.

   MR Credit 6: Rapidly Renewable Materials. This credit does not apply to our product.
   MR Credit 7: Certified Wood
   This category does not apply to our product (currently no FSC paneling is available).

5. Indoor Environmental Quality
   IEQ Credit 4.4: Low-Emitting Materials-Composite Wood and Agrifiber Products
   Our product is CARB compliant for formaldehyde. However our product does not meet the requirements for MR Credit 4.4.

6. Innovation in Design. This category does not apply to our product.

7. Regional Priority. This category does not apply to our product.
